

The thick blue curve is the original function.

The medium red curve is the derivative (g).

The thin green curve is the antiderivative (f).

The vertical position of f can be different, these are drawn to go through the origin.

